

Monthly FACTSHEET

August 2026

How We Invest

Alliance Witan aims to be a core equity holding for investors that delivers a real return over the long term through a combination of capital growth and a rising dividend. The Company invests primarily in global equities across a wide range of industries and sectors to achieve its objective.

The Company's investment manager, WTW, has appointed a number of Stock Pickers with different styles, who each ignore the benchmark and only buy a small number of stocks in which they have strong conviction. Therefore, we believe investors get the benefit of both highly focused stock picking to increase potential outperformance versus the benchmark and manager diversification which should reduce risk and volatility. We believe that the Company's diversified but highly active multi-manager portfolio is competitively priced.

Investment Commentary

Global stock markets rebounded in August after stalling in July, driven higher by a resilient economic backdrop and continued growth in corporate earnings. All major regions posted gains, led by emerging markets stocks, although the UK was flat.

Against a backdrop of the ongoing conflict in Ukraine and warnings of disruption from the El Niño weather pattern, a broad-based rise in commodity prices ensured that materials was the strongest sector. With no sign of an end to the war between the US and Iran, energy benefitted from elevated oil prices, and technology shares regained momentum after July's sell-off.

While semiconductor stocks bounced back, it was the software sector that led the way in technology, with strong earnings easing concerns that business models would be undermined by artificial intelligence (AI).

Risk warnings – Past performance does not predict future returns. The value of shares and the income from them can rise and fall, so investors may not get back the amount originally invested. Net Asset Value (“NAV”) performance is not the same as share price performance and investors may not realise returns in line with NAV performance. Exchange rate changes may cause the value of overseas investments to go down as well as up and can impact on both the level of income received and capital value of your investment. Investment trusts may borrow to finance further investment (gearing). The use of gearing is likely to lead to volatility in the NAV, meaning that a relatively small movement, down or up, in the value of an investment trust’s assets will result in a magnified movement, in the same direction, of that NAV. This may mean that you could get back less than you invested or nothing at all. The mention of any specific shares should not be taken as a recommendation to deal. This is a marketing communication. Please refer to the Key Information Document and any other relevant documentation before making any final investment decisions.

Important Information

Alliance Witan is an investment company with investment trust status. Alliance Witan invests primarily in equities and aims to generate capital growth and a progressively rising dividend from its portfolio of investments. Alliance Witan currently conducts its affairs so that its shares can be recommended by Independent Financial Advisers (IFAs) to ordinary retail investors in accordance with the Financial Conduct Authority (FCA) rules in relation to non-mainstream investment products and intends to continue to do so for the foreseeable future. The shares are excluded from the FCA’s restrictions which apply to non-mainstream investment products because they are shares in an investment trust. The shares in the Company may also be suitable for institutional investors who seek a combination of capital and income return. Private investors should consider consulting an Independent Financial Adviser who specialises in advising on the acquisition of shares and other securities before acquiring shares. Alliance Witan is not authorised to give financial advice. For security and compliance monitoring purposes, telephone calls may be recorded. The Alliance Witan Board has appointed Towers Watson Investment Management Limited (TWIM) as its Alternative Investment Fund Manager (AIFM). TWIM is part of WTW. Issued by Towers Watson Investment Management Limited. Towers Watson Investment Management Limited, registered office Watson House, London Road, Reigate, Surrey RH2 9PQ is authorised and regulated by the Financial Conduct Authority, firm reference number 446740.

But returns from mega-cap technology shares were mixed. For example, NVIDIA rose strongly while Broadcom, Alphabet and Amazon declined.

Our net asset value increased by 2.2% in Sterling, compared to a 2.1% rise for the benchmark. The share price return was higher at 3.1% due to a narrowing of the discount.

The contributors to performance were led by the German software company, SAP, owned by EdgePoint, Veritas and Vulcan; and Bandai Namco, a leading Japanese video game publisher and toy producer, which is owned by Dalton.

SAP’s shares surged roughly 21% in August as part of a sharp recovery following earlier AI-driven sector pullbacks. Investors refocused on the company’s underlying recurring revenue strength and solid second-quarter metrics, which featured strong cloud revenue growth and a high double-digit rise in its current cloud backlog. Veritas say there is renewed optimism surrounding AI and enterprise software adoption.

Bandai Namco’s share price was boosted by impressive first-quarter earnings and a broader rotation away from AI-related stocks. The strong results reinforced investor confidence in the company’s earnings outlook, with operating income increasing by more than 30% year-on-year, driven by steady revenue growth and improved profit margins. Dalton’s other significant contributors in Japan included Rohto Pharmaceutical, the country’s leading eye drop company and a major cosmetics player. The strong share price reaction following its first-quarter results reflected investor confidence in solid profit growth in Japan and broader Asia, which accounts for most of its earnings. Dalton’s investment thesis remains unchanged, with strong growth in Southeast Asia and an attractive valuation supporting its positive view.

The detractors included our underweight in strongly performing technology shares in the US, such as NVIDIA and Micron Technology, but stock selection in the sector was also negative. Elsewhere, RB Global in Canada, owned by EdgePoint, operates one of the world’s largest marketplaces for buying and selling commercial vehicles and other assets. Its business includes physical and online auctions. The company reported second-quarter results on August 4. The company highlighted an 11% year-over-year increase in Q2 2026 gross transaction value (GTV) to $4.7 billion. Despite strong top-line growth, investors were concerned about signs of slowing momentum. A lower revenue take rate, driven by pricing incentives and changes in the mix of transactions, weighed on profitability. In addition, economic uncertainty, higher interest rates, and geopolitical risks led customers to be more cautious with large purchases, raising concerns about future transaction volumes. These factors overshadowed otherwise solid results, including revenue growth and a dividend increase.

Other significant negatives included NRG, the US utilities company. NRG underperformed on concerns about the AI data centre buildout. In NRG’s key market, Texas, the Governor announced a temporary pause on new data centre approvals and grid connections. Lyrical says a pause in data centre construction suggests that the electricity market will remain balanced, rather than tight, in the medium term. However, Lyrical expects NRG to deliver strong earnings growth of over 10% per annum for the next five years at current power prices. In other words, NRG remains attractively priced with significant potential upside should power markets improve. Lyrical’s positive view of the stock is unchanged.
